

Hey!

We hope you like the pictures of Storavillan taken by our favourite photographer Susanna Nordvall!

It is quite impossible to make a small yet comprehensive information package from our charming villa. The villa, designed by Eliel Saarinen, was built in the year 1900 and similarly to other old buildings, every corner is worth a picture of its own. Let's go through the pages, shall we?

Page 1

Storavillan is located centrally, at the highest point of our area. The eldest son of Walter Karsten (the first owner of Storavillan) was a great fan of plants, it is because of him that there are around 800 special species of trees, flowers and botanicals growing all around the villa. There is a lovely little grass yard behind Storavillan with views to the bay and the smaller islands: perfect for an intimate outdoor wedding ceremony.

Page 2

The main hall in Storavillan has the capacity to seat around 40 people comfortably (50, if your group is really comfortable with each other). An additional veranda room can be used for another 12, and a third room fits 16 people. It must be noted that while the other rooms are close-by, there is no line of sight.

Page 3

Storavillan upstairs has the possibility to provide accommodation for 12 people. With extra beds it is possible to push that number up by 7. As the villa was built to suit a time of landlords and service staff living in the same household, many of the bedrooms are only accessible by walking through another bedroom.

For example, the 2 people bedroom on Page 3 is only accessible by walking through the 4 people bedroom pictured on the same page.

Page 4

One of the 2 person bedrooms can also serve as a bridal room. It has the most beautiful light of all the rooms in Storavillan and is spacious enough to have a small team of bridesmaids to help the bride with her preparations.

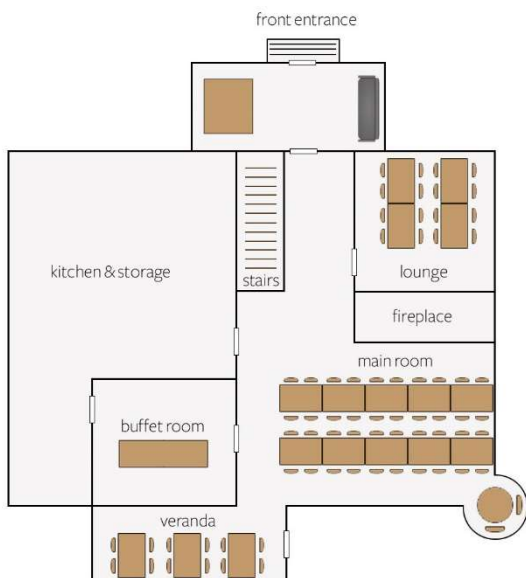

Figure 1: standard seating arrangement

Blue beds are the standard layout, red beds are possible extras

Figure 2: available accommodation